TRAIN HELD UP

Seven Masked Bandits Flag a Missouri Pacific Train Last Night and Rob It.

PASSENGERS NOT MOLESTED

Two Express Safes Blown Up with Dynamite and the Baggage Car Blown to Fragments—Express Officials Won't Talk.

Kansas City, Sept. 24.—Seven masked men held up the west bound Missouri Pacific passenger train, known as Little Rock and Wichita express, in the woods between Leeds and Dawson, seven miles from Kansas City, at 9:40 last night. To prevent interference, they first smashed the telegraph instruments of the Little Rock station and marched the operator, D. M. Hisey before them to a point half a mile east. While two men covered his eyes, another flagged the train as it appeared, quickly covered Engineer Slocum and Fireman Weston, compelled them to dismount, and then detaching the engine and Pacific express car, ran them down the track a mile and a half.

The passengers were unmolested but the porter who attempted to interfere was quickly sent to hunt cover by a shot. At a desolate spot the baggage car was broken in two, great quantities of dynamite placed upon the through safe and the local safe placed on top of it. So much explosive was used that the car was literally blown to splinters and the safes were thrown away to one side of the track. This morning, notwithstanding the fragments of the local safe could be found, and the through box was wrecked.

The explosion undoubtedly destroyed any valuables the safes may have contained. The express officials absolutely refused to make a statement as to their loss, saying simply "it is small."

No tangible clue to robbers has been secured.

Express Messenger Hills told an interesting story of his experience with the robbers. He said: "Let us in or we'll blow you up," they demanded. I opened the door and three masked men got in. They carried sacks over their arms. One man got the drop on me. The mask of one man slipped and I tried to get a good look at him. Quick as a flash he hit me on the head with the butt of his revolver. He put seven sticks of dynamite on the big combination safe and set the portage safe on top of the dynamite. They set the fuse and I saw a match struck. They jumped out leaving me in the car. I pleaded with them and they finally let me jump down. We all moved up the other side of the road. It seemed an age as we waited. The fuse apparently refused to work. They sent me to uncoil the engine from the baggage car. Just as I was doing it, there was a flash and roar and I fell to the ground stunned. When I recovered sufficiently to regain my feet some one said: "Get quick." I started on a run down the track toward the rest of the train, while the robbers, who came up by this time, made for the wrecked express car."

BRITISH-VENEZUELAN ARBITRATION.

The Commission Also to Meet in Paris is of Hardly Less Importance Than the Spanish-American Body.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The approaching meeting at Paris of the British-Venezuela court of arbitration in behalf of the Republic, will be hardly second in importance to the meeting at Paris of the peace commission, owing to the Venezuelan question raised between the United States and Great Britain during the Cleveland administration. The present plan is for the court to hold a preliminary session in January, at which time Justice Brewer will go to Paris. But Chief Justice Fuller is not likely to attend the first meeting at the Supreme court will be very busy, and two members cannot be spared at the same time. Justice Brewer probably will arrange for postponement until May, at which time he and the chief justice will join the other arbitrators and take up the serious business of the commission.

The case and counter cases, between Great Britain and Venezuela have been completed. The papers make one of the most voluminous international controversies ever brought to arbitration. With the record all made up, it remains only for counsel for the two parties to submit their briefs. The Venezuela brief will be prepared by ex-President Harrison, ex-Secretary Tracy and Mr. Mallet Prevost. The British arbitrators are headed by Baron Herschell, formerly lord chancellor of England. The arbitrator who occupies the attitude of umpire is a noted Russian jurist and international law writer, Maertens.

One Camp at Least in Good Shape.

Anniston, Ala., Sept. 24.—Secretary of War Alger, Surgeon General Sternberg and Quartermaster General Ludington today, inspected Camp Shipp and the troops stationed here. General Frank in charge was complimented on the healthful condition of the camp.

Official News Travels Slowly.

London, Sept. 24.—The British government has received the first official news from Sir Gen. Herbert Kitchener since he started from Khartoum for Fashoda, but only that he had captured some small boats has been allowed to leak out.

Postponed Until Monday.

Paris, Sept. 24.—The cabinet today decided to postpone its decision on the question proposed in the revision of the Dreyfus case until Monday, owing to the absence from the meeting of the minister of finance and the minister of agriculture.

Grows More Interesting.

Paris, Sept. 24.—It was officially announced this afternoon that the civil commission examining the documents in the Dreyfus case, with a view to reporting to the government on the advisability of re-opening it, is equally divided. The government considers that this division gives only full fact of decision, also responsibility. Therefore the government has decided to wait until Monday, when a full cabinet meeting will be held and a decision arrived at.

Commissioners in Liverpool.

Liverpool, Sept. 24.—The United States peace commissioners landed here this morning. They are all in good health and refreshed by the voyage for the work in store for them. The commissioners were warmly welcomed by the United States Consul James Boyle. The mayor of Liverpool invited the commissioners to attend a function this evening in honor of the British warships now here, but the invitation was declined.

MURDER MYSTERY UNRAVELED.

The Yellow Mill Pond Murder Cleared Up and the Guilt Laid on the Alleged Culprit.

Bridgport, Conn., Sept. 24.—The superintendent of police of Birmingham has issued a statement in which he has announced a complete unravelling of the Yellow Mill-pond murder mystery. The superintendent says Dr. Nancy Guilford caused the death of Emma O'Neil by a criminal operation, asserting the body was dismembered in a tub in the Guilford house, and names Harry O'Neil as an accomplice to the extent of being responsible for the condition of the girl and consenting to a criminal operation.

Mysterious British Naval Movements.

Wei Hai Wei, Sept. 24.—The British battleship Centurion, the flagship of vice admiral Sir Edward H. Seymour, commander of the British fleet in Chinese waters, sailed suddenly yesterday under sealed orders, accompanied from Chefoo by the battleship Victorious, the first-class cruiser Narcissus, second class cruiser Hermione, torpedo boat destroyer Fame, torpedo boat destroyer Hart and the dispatch boat Alcyon. It is supposed the destination is Ta Ku, at the entrance of the river leading to Tien Tsin, port of Pekin, for the purpose of making a naval demonstration there.

Volunteer Promotions.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The president has appointed the following named officers: Brigadier generals of volunteers (for services in the Santiago campaign): Lieutenant Colonel Charles D. Viole, 1st United States cavalry; Colonel Wm. M. Wherry, 10th United States infantry; Colonel John H. Page and Colonel L. G. Carpenter, 3rd United States infantry; Lieutenant Colonel C. F. Weston, subsistence department.

Brigadier general of volunteers (for services in Puerto Rico), Colonel Willis G. Hurling, 16th Pennsylvania volunteers.

It is the expectation that most of these officers will be soon mustered out of the volunteer service, though of course not necessarily out of the present regular army positions and grades.

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.

Appointed to Inquire Into the Conduct of the War Began Its Labors in the White House.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The commission to investigate the conduct of the War department during the conflict with Spain held its initial meeting in the office of President McKinley at the White House today. There were eight members present. It was announced that the ninth man had been secured, though his name was not made public. The eight present were: Major General Granville M. Dodge of Iowa, Colonel J. A. Saxton of Illinois, Captain E. P. Howland of Georgia, Major General J. M. Wilson, chief engineer of United States army; Charles Denby of Indiana, late minister to China; ex-Governor Woodbury of Vermont, ex-Governor Beaver of Pennsylvania, Major General H. D. McCook, retired.

The commission spent an hour and a half with the president at the White House, and then proceeded to the room assigned to it at the War department for the purpose of organizing and beginning work. The proceedings with the president consisted in the main of a general exchange of views as to the scope of the commission's investigation. The president told the members that the organization of the commission had been undertaken at the request of Secretary Alger. The president had put his own views in writing and read them. He said complaints had been directed especially at the general staff, the quartermaster general's and the commissary general's departments of the army, and suggested that the conduct of these departments should receive special attention. He added that it was his desire that the entire military organization should, if it appeared necessary, be made the subject of inquiry. The president wished the committee to go to the bottom of the subject in all cases and to proceed with the work without fear or favor.

"If," he said, "the commission should have any difficulty in securing the attendance of witnesses, it should have access to papers thought to be essential to the prosecution of its labors. I hope the matter will be brought to my attention, when I will do all in my power to overcome the difficulty."

A suggestion was made that the commission's first effort should be to secure general information in regard to the organization of the army, and the time in which was performed.

Dr. Phineas S. Conner, of Cincinnati, was announced as the ninth member of the commission. The commission organized by electing General Granville M. Dodge chairman, and Major General J. M. Wilson, chief engineer of United States army, to be military recorder. The commission adjourned to meet Monday.

It was said the examination of witnesses would probably be open, but other proceedings would be in executive session.

The Last Man.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 24.—Dr. Phineas S. Conner, a distinguished physician who served as assistant surgeon in the United States army during the civil war, has accepted an invitation from the president to become a member of the commission to investigate the conduct of the War department.

LINCOLN COUNTY HAPPENINGS.

Tickets Nominated by Both the Republican and Democratic Parties—An Abundant Hay Harvest—Items of Personal Interest.

White Oaks, Sept. 21.—Conventions have been the order of the day in Lincoln county this week. The Democratic county convention was held in Lincoln on Monday, the 19th inst., and nominated the following ticket: Probate judge, Jose Cordova; probate clerk, Arnold Ridgeway; sheriff, Peter Barleson; treasurer, Emil Fritz; assessor, T. F. Fleming; county superintendent of schools, John Kimball; county commissioners, Thomas W. Henley, M. Cronin and J. W. Nations.

The Republicans assembled in convention at the same place on Tuesday and selected their nominees as follows: Sheriff, D. Peres; treasurer, R. Michaelis; assessor, B. F. Gumm; probate judge, W. F. Blanchard; probate clerk, Isadoro Amadio; county superintendent of schools, U. M. Clute; county commissioners, Alfredo Gonzales, B. Clure and Estanislao Sanchez.

The Democratic convention talked much of the efficiency and good service of present official incumbents, but they all realized the expediency of nominating an entirely new set of men and acted accordingly. With the exception that Sheriff Fritz was nominated for treasurer. If fraud and jobbery in the administration of county affairs should count for anything against the Democratic party, the Republicans will stand a show for success at the coming election in spite of their minority. Not long ago a conversation between some of the brethren of the dominant party in this county was overheard, in which a realization of the fact that if the Republicans put a strong man in the field for congressional delegate, the chances for the re-election of Mr. Ferguson could be uncertain. If Mr. Ferguson could only succeed in getting the Whipple Barracks sent home on a freight car, otherwise, said they, every soldier boy of them would vote and work for him and his re-election would be assured.

To note the army of hay-makers at work throughout this section of country one must come to the conclusion that "make hay while the sun shines" is a delightful as well as profitable employment. It is more than a dozen years since the hay was so abundant and fine in quality as it is this season. Of course there is a corresponding drop in price and the best grammar hay can now be had, delivered in White Oaks, for $8 per ton. A person examining with him the El Paso & Northwestern Railroad Company sent word to parties here that there would be a great demand for hay before another season as that road is to be steadily pushed on to White Oaks; so the hay is being brought in and stored in great quantities. The atmosphere is filled with its fragrance. One cannot travel over the vast plains of Lincoln county, covered with the luxuriant and nutritious gramma, without thinking that the judgment pronounced against Nebuchadnezzar was not so dreadful after all, could he have had such a range to feed upon.

Hon. W. C. McDonald is having a handsome and commodious residence built out on Carlisno ranch, which will soon be ready for occupancy. He is now in the east on business relative to shipment of cattle.

Mrs. Morris H. Parker, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. W. C. McDonald, and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Parker, started last Saturday on her return to her husband, who is in business in Old Mexico. Her brother, Jno. McCurt, accompanied her.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Parker have gone to El Paso from which they propose to proceed to St. Louis, where they will visit during the carnival festivities.

Dr. and Mrs. Ball, of El Paso, who have been visiting friends and relatives in White Oaks during the summer, have returned to their home. They are so favorably impressed with this place that they think strongly of locating here in the near future.

C. Sanchez, agent for an insurance company and widely known in New Mexico, is making White Oaks his headquarters now. He is a most successful solicitor and therefore very valuable to his employers. Rumor has it that in addition to his work for the company he is instructing one of our fair school ma'ams in the intricacies of his vocation.

Two of the Gumm brothers, Joe and Wallace, are putting up a sawmill in Alamogordo.

Captain Kaide and family will start soon for Kansas City to be there for the carnival season.

Letters from the family of Stanley Taliaferro, who returned to Illinois less than a year ago, express a wish that they were back in White Oaks. Also word comes from the family of Dick Young, former residents of White Oaks, and who are now in Dyce, Alaska, that they will probably spend the coming winter here.

Stabbed His Brother.

Passengers from the south last night, report hearing of a murder at San Antonio, to the effect that a man named David Baca got into an altercation with his brother Thursday evening, and finally stabbed the latter. The murderer was placed under arrest. Further particulars were not available.

Sent to the Pen.

Three of the Stein's Pass train hold-ups named William Warden, Leonard Alverson and William Hoffman, have been found guilty of train robbery and given ten years each in the penitentiary, by Judge Parker at Las Cruces. Three other alleged hold-ups, viz: Henry Marshall, Thomas Capelhart, and Coesh Vantage were found not guilty and released.

Counsel for the convicted parties moved for a stay of judgment, but the court denied the motion, and United States Marshal Foraker will bring the trio up to the pen at his earliest convenience. They are very tough gentlemen and it is considered the part of prudence to give them the full term. Just the day and train in which the transfer will be made.

Sensible Talk.

In his farewell talk to his men on mustering out, Colonel Roosevelt said to them:

"Now, here's a thing I want to warn you against. Don't get big and pose as heroes. Don't go back and lie on your laurels; they'll wither. The world will be kind to you for about ten days, and then it will say, 'he's spoiled by fame of the regiment in Cuba.' Don't think you have got to have the best of everything, and don't consider yourselves as martyrs in the past tense. A martyr came to see me today. He hadn't had any milk for a whole day. I said to him, 'Oh, you poor thing, and he went away. I hope he felt better. What I want of you all is to get right out and fight your battles in the world as bravely as you fought the nation's battles in Cuba.'"
